

Imagine using your iPad™ as a touchpanel for your home entertainment system or to control all the lights in your home. Merge has created a unique control interface for the iPad, iPhone or iPod Touch which is automatically installed through the Crestron Mobile app from the Apple App Store.

Crestron Mobile talks directly to the control system without any third-party software or external servers. The Merge interface and associated modules are programmed for the equipment in your home and installed on your Crestron processor. The Merge interface will self install to your iPad and you immediately take control. All updates to your system are also automatically pushed to your iPad so there is never a need to re-install when changes or updates are made.

Using the home Wi-Fi network locally or the powerful 3G networks remotely, total control is always at your fingertips.
